

DISADVANTAGES OF ChatGTP CONTENT

1. ChatGPT Lies (Hallucinates Facts)

- “When answering a question that requires professional knowledge from a particular field, ChatGPT may fabricate facts in order to give an answer... (Montti, (2023).
- For example, in legal questions, ChatGPT may invent some non-existent legal provisions to answer the question.
- ...Additionally, when a user poses a question that has no existing answer, ChatGPT may also fabricate facts in order to provide a response.”

DISADVANTAGES OF ChatGTP CONTENT

2. ChatGPT Does Not Produce Insights

- ChatGPT summarizes the topic but does not offer a unique insight into the topic (Montti, (2023).
- Humans create insights through knowledge, but also through their personal experience and subjective perceptions.
- “They are really fluffy. There’s no context, there’s no depth or insight.”

DISADVANTAGES OF ChatGTP CONTENT

3. ChatGPT Is Still In Training

- ChatGPT is currently still in the process of training and improving (Montti, (2023)).
- OpenAI recommends that all content generated by ChatGPT should be reviewed by a human, listing this as a best practice.
- “Humans should be aware of the limitations of the system, and have access to any information needed to verify the outputs (for example, if the application summarizes notes, a human should have easy access to the original notes to refer back).”

DISADVANTAGES OF ChatGTP CONTENT

4. ChatGPT Is Biased To Be Formal

- ChatGPT output has a bias that prevents it from loosening up and answering with ordinary expressions. Instead, its answers tend to be formal (Montti, (2023)).
- Humans, on the other hand, tend to answer questions with a more colloquial style, using everyday language and slang – the opposite of formal.
- ChatGPT doesn't use abbreviations like GOAT or TL;DR.
